Engaging Gen Z

Would you like to get young people more involved with your club or organisation? Would you like to know how to communicate better with generation y and z?

Getting and keeping young people involved is important for the long term success of any community, group, or club. They have enthusiasm, energy and ideas... and are missing from many of our organisations. This puts the sustainability of groups at risk as their membership ages.

We're holding a FREE workshop with dynamic social entrepreneur Holly Ransom, who is renowned for her commentary on the inter-generational challenges that face organisations.

The workshop will cover

- why youth engagement is important for the future of the community and organisations, and
- how to engage effectively with young people, including how to communicate well and tailoring your message to appeal to gen-z and millennials

Friday 6 May 2016, 10-11.30am at South West TAFE in Portland. Morning tea, tea and coffee provided.

RSVPs essential. Contact Phoebe by Tuesday 3 May on 0437 218 060 or pnagorcka-smith@glenelg.vic.gov.au

BREAKTHROUGH: ICE EDUCATION FOR FAMILIES

Topics include: Fact, Strategies and Help

All family members attending the workshop will be given information on where to get help and support following the completion of the workshop and options for ongoing support activities.

WHEN: Tuesday, 24 May 2016 from 11:00am to 3:00pm

WHERE: Warrnambool – South West TAFE 193/197-205 Timor St, Warrnambool
