

Rural People; Resilient Futures Stakeholder Workshop

Plan Prepare Lead...

The Rural People; Resilient Futures Project Team are providing an opportunity for PCP member agencies and associated stakeholders to plan together for more resilient service delivery and client support in a changing climate. Join us to learn how we can together, build resilient communities and to increase the capacity of your organisation.

Participants will receive:

- Support to plan for more resilient service delivery in a changing climate.
- Tailored climate change information relevant to you (projections, climate summaries, impact breakdown over varying timescales - 2030, 2070, 2100).
- Lessons in dealing with complexity - our workshops always aim to build capacity of attendees and while participating, you will learn interesting activities and methods that will help you deal with complexity and plan strategically within your organisation.
- Networking opportunities – investigate who you can work with to better support the community.
- Opportunities for integrated planning and service delivery across the region.

Attendance is free for PCP member agencies. All we ask is for a full commitment of preparation and participation on the day.

For further information and to register contact SGGPCP on 555 18563 or email Joanne.brown@wdhs.net

Thursday 4th
September
2014

10.00am –
2.00pm

RMIT University
Ballarat Rd
Hamilton

Light Lunch
Provided

FACILITATED BY ALIANNE RANCE

Alianne is a research officer at RMIT University and adaptation consultant. She is currently undertaking State Government funded research on adaptation in the community sector, and a PhD on the considerations of climate risk in property development at RMIT University.

